Another Harm.

Ciothes for the Sweet Girl Graduates

Net the Favored Fabric for Her Frock in Empire, Bodice or Bolero Fashion-Flowers Introduced for Color.

A Pink Rose Above the Rem Gives the Granation Dress of Net and Taffeta a Touch of Color.

At first giance, it seems the whole graduating world is to be gowned in tet, so completely does the fabric dominate the collection. No doubt, it is the extremely full skirt that brings this material so noticeably to the fore; but regardless of the cause, the effect it charming in the qualnt Empire, bodice and holero dresses, showing features from old fashions such as short, puffed glesses and marrow raffles. Valenciennes, filet and imitation Irish crochet, repeated again and again in the trimming, reminds one forcibly of the timely revival of these three laces. There are frocks, too, where heavy embroidary is used in the ornamentation; others edged with half-inch shirred ribon, and here and there a model touched with taffeta. One frock in particular of the last type has the new liced from bodics, rippling peplum, and applied hem of the shik. The sumpe, showing shove and between the lands of the bodics the discress, puffed until they resemble toy balloons and the skirt, with its entire width gathered in at the waist, are of net. A half-blown rose of delicate pink tacked above the hem, gives a touch of color, which makes the nex and taffeta seem the purer white for the contrast. It might be well to add here, while speaking of the rose, that all the frocks have this bit of color all the frocks have this bit of color.

TEW YORK, May 21.—The ques- the goods draped on forms to show tion of the graduation dress is the various styles in which to make it

Service de control de la contr

To Make the Country Home More Beautiful; How to Build a Porch of Cement for Vines

R URAL as well as city beauty is one of the things The El Paso Herald ima often labored for. The results being accomplished in El Paso are far greater cause for congratuintion than upon the farms in the vicinity, yet there are many homes in the valleys above and below III Paso that have beautiful yards. To make Herald. It is really easier to accomplish the work in the country than in the city, hence there should be no lack of beautiful spots in the El Paso

Inexpensive, Picturesque Arbor.

The attractive arbor shown in the to construct that it should appeal to their premises beautiful as well as profitable.

cinder concrete columns surmounted by J. Fletcher Street, a Philadelphia architect, at his suburban home in Beverly,

New Jersey.

To construct the columns required burrels of concrete. The work was done by one man in four days. This sufe for the unakilled worker to use, and the proper proportions of cement, and and stone are given below.

How to Build.

The arbor is $212 feet. The columns are 7 1-2 feet high, 2 feet at the base and 18 inches at the top. Each has a foundation of concrete ? feet 6 inches each way-in other words, a concrete cube of that dimension. A square form of boards was erected and corner places inserted to form the octagon. It was intended to give the columns a finishing coat of pluster, but they looked so well in their crude state that it was Simple designs of this type compare favorably with the most costly and ornate conceptions, and are made at greatly reduced cost. Had the columns hown been elaborate in design and surmounted with dressed timbers it is questionable whether the arbor could have been built for less than $180.

Rude if Preferred.

Moreover, many people of good form at the right with braces nailed instead of being fitted with bolts and simple possesses their place in the landscape with the unobtrusiveness of a tree while their rough surface is better adapted to the growing of vines than columns possessing a smooth surface. In fact, the columns on the world famous terrace at Amalfi are even more simple than these octagonal

Two types of forms for constructing columns are shown in the line drawing. The form at the teft is the more economical where it is the purpose to use it many times, but for a single operation, such as the arbor described, the

Argentina Not Jealous of the U.S. Is Too Busy Growing, Says President Copyright, 1918, by Frank G. Carpenter.)

Frank G. Carpenter

New Capital Which Was Expected to Cost 3,000,000 Pesos Has Already Cost 30,000,000 as a Result of Whole-sale Graft.

Don't Believe In Fairy Tales, Girls

Dorothy Dix Warns Young Women Workers to Beware of Dreams and Fiction Princes-Face Truth and Work Up With Man in Own Sphere of Life Is Only Safe Plan. By DOROTHY DIX.

If I could say one word more surmest times out of a bundred he is a wolf in than any other to working girls, it would be this:

the same intentions toward you as a langery wolf would have toward a dethan any other to working Sirls, sheep's clothing, and he has exactly the Same intentions toward you as a hungry work would have toward a defenced by the same intentions toward a defenced by the same intentions.

than any other to working and the DONT SELLEYE IN FAIRY TALES.

GIRLS.

The story of Cinderells and the Pairy frince is fistion. It never happened in real life. It never happened to any girl it saminged to have going to happen to your, so get the silly lides out of your head and got down to the real business the working girls and the south of the really lives in a rounner that makes the really lives in a rounner that makes the really lives in a rounner that makes and the real point of a matine hero and a philantiropic millionaire catheta as a silling so for a matine hero and a philantiropic millionaire catheta as a silling so for a matine hero and a philantiropic millionaire catheta as a silling so for a matine hero and a philantiropic millionaire catheta as a silling so for a matine hero and a philantiropic millionaire catheta as a silling so for a matine hero and a philantiropic millionaire catheta as a silling so for a matine hero and a society queen, and has her pictures in the newspapars over down working girls in the newspapars over the working girls are the properties of the catheta and the continue to find this Fally Prince that she fits the catheta and the continue and the conti giving his possessions to whomsoever or whatsoever he pieases and cut off his daughter or son with a mickel. In Argentina the laws provide that a father must leave his children four-diffun of his property, and only unmarried son his compained to leave his parents two-thirds of his property, and only unmarried persons without parents or descendants can make wills disposing of their possessions as they see fit.

Religious is free in Argentina. Almost all of the people are Catholites and the state gives some support to the Catholic church, but all other creads are foliarated, and any one may worship any god in any way he pleases.

Has Free Schools.

STYLISH NEW SPRING HAT

